

CHARGE BRITISH CONTROL PORT OF N. Y.

MERCHANT MARINE CO. IN ALLEGED TRADE AGREEMENT

SENATOR JONES DISCLOSES TREATY ENTERED INTO IN 1903.

20-YEAR CONTRACT Shippers Pursue Policies for Benefit of English Interests.

[By Associated Press.]
Washington, Jan. 20.—Charges that the International Mercantile Marine company, an American shipping company, controlling the operation of 40 vessels leased from the shipping board, is bound by an agreement entered into with the British government in 1903 to pursue "no policy injurious to the interests of the mercantile marine of British trade" were made here today by Senator Jones, Washington. Parts of the alleged agreement, entered into for 20 years, were read by Senator Jones before the annual convention of the International Mercantile Marine association, in which the senator made sweeping charges of attempts by British interests to control the shipping board and to secure American merchants, to destroy the American merchant marine.

British Held Control.
The agreement, he said, reserved the right of termination by the British government in event of the purchase of any policy injurious to the mercantile marine and left the final decision in case of any dispute arising thereunder, to the "lord high chancellor of Great Britain." Provision is made for continuance of the agreement after the 20 year period "subject to notice of 5 years on either side."

As a result of this agreement, Senator Jones said, the steamships owned by the International Mercantile Marine company as well as the leased shipping board vessels, are "actually operated in the interest of the British government and British trade, and subject to the terms of the contract."

Opposes New Line.
In support of his charges, the American senator charged that the British government had decided an agent of the shipping board in New York city, who he said was a former employee of the International Mercantile Marine company, had secured the establishment of an American shipping line between New York and England and admitted that his reason for doing so was that it would "injure business of British lines from New York."

"Whatever benefits the port of New York, benefits British shippers," a monopoly of export freight rates through the port of New York spells greater profits for these British owners. It follows then, that the British shipping men are in accord with the eastern trunk line railway officials, who seek to prevent the equalization of export freight rates from Central freight association territory to Gulf and South Atlantic ports.

C. of C. in Control.
"The chamber of commerce of the state of New York is made up of the international bankers and the heads of steamship and steamship companies," Senator Jones continued. "Philip S. Franklin, vice president of this chamber of commerce, is the president of the International Mercantile Marine company, the American company which entered into the agreement already referred to."

Brings Sharp Rejoinder.
These charges by Senator Jones brought a sharp rejoinder from P. S. Franklin, president of the company. "It is manifestly unfair and unjust," Mr. Franklin said. "For a member of the senate of the United States to make such charges against the International Mercantile Marine company is an insult to the American people. None but Americans are on its board of directors. Ninety nine per cent of its stock is held by American citizens. It is not a monopoly of shipping. It is a company of British ships to the American flag and for us to be attacked is very unfair. Instead of receiving credit for the work we have done for American shipping we are damned for it."

Some Bean! Mule Breaks Leg When It Kicks His Head

[By Associated Press.]
Huntville, Ala., Jan. 20.—The claim of Joseph Jones, Merriam, to hospital attacks here that he had "some bean" was borne out today when his mule, which he had hitched on the head by a mule, and that the animal was lying helpless with a broken leg, was investigated and found to be true. Jones said his mule was kicked by a strong mule and he made a threatening gesture to frighten it away. It refused to stampede, meeting the assault with a well directed kick to the brow. The mule's leg was broken in two places and had to be shot. Jones will recover.

STATE TO VOTE DISARMAMENT

Resolution Offered Memorializing Congress to Take First Step.

[By Associated Press.]
Madison, Jan. 20.—A joint resolution memorializing congress and the president to take the initiative in world disarmament, and to withdraw immediately all of this country's military forces from Europe and Asia, was introduced in the Wisconsin senate this morning by Senator Julius L. Dornhahn.

The senator pointed to the large expenditures for military purposes, and for military purposes, and to the fact that 15,000 American soldiers were in Europe, 2,000 in Hawaii, 5,000 in Panama, and 10,000 in the Philippines, and asked that action should be taken immediately to cut expenditures and to withdraw soldiers from foreign lands.

A bill requiring that all convicted felons be confined in the state prison, was introduced in the senate by Joseph Hirsch, Milwaukee.

Girls Grow up Too Soon; Jump from Babies to Short-Skirted Women

[By Associated Press.]
Chicago, Jan. 20.—There is an enormous social drift on toward premature adulthood. Judge Joseph Sabath told Chicago High school teachers last night. "Girls don't want to be called girls," he said. "They want to be called women from the time they enter their second teeth. They want to dress their hair and bodies like grown-up ladies, before they are fairly in their teens. There is only one way to curb this tendency—increased public education for self-control. The only

BORAH RESOLUTION TO CUT NAVY GIVEN FAVORABLE REPORT

SENATE FOREIGN RELATIONS COMMITTEE ACTS ON DISARMAMENT.

INCLUDES "BIG 3"

Amendment Limits Negotiations Solely to Forces of Sea.

[By Associated Press.]
Washington, Jan. 20.—Senator Borah's resolution proposing negotiations for reduction of naval building by the United States, Great Britain and Japan was reported favorably today by the senate foreign relations committee.

In lieu of the original proposal that the negotiations look to a reduction of 50 per cent in future building for 5 years, the committee proposed that the negotiations provide for such reductions as can be agreed upon.

No Record Vote Taken.

No record vote was taken but that offered by Senator Walsh, Democrat, Montana, proposing that the United States have an American representative participate with the disarmament commission of the league of nations, was defeated 8 to 3 on a straight-party alignment.

Limit to Big Three.
The committee finally decided to limit the proposed negotiations to the United States, Great Britain and Japan, voting down a proposal by Senator McCumber, Republican, North Dakota, to extend it to include France and Italy. Sentiment was represented as being that the other nations would follow the lead of the three principal powers.

The committee struck out the preamble of the Borah resolution which declared that a Japanese official had said that Japan could not consent to naval reduction without action by the United States.

Another amendment was made to limit the negotiations to naval disarmament and exclude all consideration of military reduction.

COUNTY HAS PLENTY OF TEACHERS; NO SALARY CHANGES

Sufficient teachers have been obtained for the Rock county school system, according to the annual report of Charles E. Moore, which occupied the attention of the county board today.

"The total of all funds, not including that expended for the concrete highway started between Janesville and Edgerton is $349,900.30, and the total funds for last year amounted to $392,282.60."

The township balances were shown in the report, which included the money used and the balance by townships. The amount expended for machinery and construction was given as being $35,135.33. The amount expended for the concrete highway fund is $140,149.63 to be used in continuing the Edgerton road to Indian Ford. The total 1920 joint highway funds amounted to $183,582.66, the amount in the 1920 bridge fund, $10,237.65. The total received from the state on the auto license money for the year was $43,725.25. The total expended was $24,329.93, and the total county highway maintenance and machinery fund was listed as being $64,553.35, and the total expended $10,734.71.

Extending System.
Counting the cost of the Edgerton road, the county spent a total close to the half million mark for road work in 1920. There were built 13 miles of new gravel and crushed stone roads, 15 miles were re-surfaced with three bridges and 25 culverts replaced by the county.

The most season was not alone marked as exceeding all others in expenditures for highway construction and maintenance, but also in securing high prices for light haul material, reads the report. "The conditions rendered it impossible for contractors to place a reasonable bid for concrete road construction."

COUNCIL MAY VOTE TO ADD 288 POSTS TO LIGHT SYSTEM

PLANS CALL FOR EXTENDING ORNAMENTAL AR-RAY TOTAL OF 53 BLOCKS.

IS BIG PROJECT

Would Make City One of Best Lighted in State—Matter Coming up Monday.

Janesville will be probably the best lighted city of its size in Wisconsin this year if plans discussed at an informal meeting of the council last night are carried to completion. It is proposed to make big extensions to the present ornamental lighting system, adding 288 posts in 53 blocks, many of them in the residential districts. The plan is to light up all cross streets in the downtown section, making it possible to bar cars from parking on Milwaukee street.

Center and Jackson Included.

North Franklin and Jackson streets, and Center avenue would be made great "white ways" under plans agreed upon informally. The hope in putting lights on North Franklin street, which is No. 10 trunk line highway, is to divert traffic off the grade crossings so it will go under the Franklin street viaduct. The matter of placing the lights was put in the hands of the board of public works. The board will meet Saturday afternoon with the council lighting committee to work out details and report at the regular council meeting Monday night.

Where Lights Will Go.

According to present plans, the following extensions will be made of the ornamental post lighting system:

- EAST SIDE:
East Milwaukee—Division to East, 2 blocks.
North First—Main to Bluff, 1 block.
Bluff—Court to North First, 2 blocks.
Court—South Bluff to Bridge, 2 blocks.
WEST SIDE:
Pleasant—Bridge to South Jackson, 3 blocks.
Dodge—River to South Franklin, 1 block.
West Milwaukee—Academy to Five Points, 2 1/2 blocks.
Center Avenue—Five Points to Monroeville bridge, 1 1/2 blocks.
Wall—North Franklin to North High, 2 blocks.
North High—Milwaukee to railroad tracks, 2 1/2 blocks.
Jackson—Railroad tracks to Jackson street bridge, 1 1/2 blocks.
Franklin—Pleasant to Mineral Point avenue, 6 blocks.

ADVISORY COUNCIL URGED ON HAVING Leading Business Men Propose Economic Cabinet to Aid President.

By DAVID LAWRENCE.

Washington, D. C., Jan. 20.—Leading business men have urged President Harding on his assumption of the presidency to create an informal economic council or cabinet with which he could consult on legislation that would affect the business of the country.

The council would be unofficial and responsible only to the chief executive, who could, of course, accept or reject the suggestions made. The function of the council would be purely advisory. The idea grows out of the splendid idea which the government adopted during the war of just such an advisory council.

What Its Inauguration.

Business men of prominence who have been discussing the idea were at first inclined to take it to Marion but they concluded that it was something that could just as well be taken up at the White House. The principal argument which is made in behalf of an economic council is that congress shortly will begin to revise the tariff and that it is a question of whether it will be brought to bear by sections of the country and by individuals where particular interests are affected. No one agency would be inclined to take the question from a national aspect, considering particularly the effect of a bill as a whole on the foreign trade of the country or international exchange. From where would it be able to get an unbiased and national point of view on the tariff? The tariff commission and members of the finance and ways and means committee of congress would be absorbed in the scientific application of tariff rules and formulas. Thus the purely business point of view would be reflected in the national business organizations of the country and the banking world might go unrepresented.

Council Be Representative.

But the authors of the idea—and among them are men of influence in the banking and business world—do not ask that the council be made up solely of business men. They suggest that representatives of labor and of agriculture as well as distinguished economists shall sit on the advisory council and be called into session whenever the president has any particular problem on which he wants advice or judgment.

Another difficulty has arisen in the past over the probable effects of legislation and while some members of congress have contended that a particular bill would help foreign trade others have argued that it would hurt. There has been no group of disinterested individuals with a business viewpoint to whom a president could turn for an authoritative opinion on such matters. No president knows all about business and in the past chief executives have relied upon a few friends some of whom have given good advice and some of whom have innocently given bad advice.

Business Men Too Busy.

Many business men who see a bad piece of legislation in the making are either too busy or too modest to write the president. Others, on the other hand, point out the flaws. The pro and con of business legislation is usually fought out by the particular interests who are adversely affected and by a little noise, made by the large number of people who might be benefited. Even such a powerful institution as the Chamber of Commerce of the United States is made up of a varied lot of interests and it is not always advisable for the executives of that organization to commit themselves without a referendum of members. The process that is satisfactory when a concrete proposal is voted upon when which does not help so much when legislation is in the process of construction and advice is needed day by day as to a variety of changing phases.

Many Interests Busy.

Another reason advanced by those opposing an economic cabinet or council is that Washington is full of organizations of manufacturers, labor unions and agricultural organizations. Each tells congress what ought to be done and induces political pressure if its advice is not taken. Congress is pulled from one side to the other and usually is glad when the chief executive steps in and puts his foot down so hard that the member of congress is not held to blame for failure to gratify the organizations that have held the club over him. But unless he were well posted the president would not be in a position to grapple with these same organizations who would naturally appeal to him.

Advising to Be Confidential.

It is not intended that the advisory body shall publish its advice and put the members of the council in embarrassing positions if they happened to give advice which men in their own line of business didn't like. But it is intended that the president should have the full benefit of all the advice that a competent and disinterested body represents of American business enterprise and labor and agriculture shall be able to give him so that he may draw his own conclusions and frame his own policies without being compelled to rely on personal friends whose motives may be excellent but whose experience and judgment has so often in the past proved inadequate.

Old Anti-Horse Thief Association Enlists in Army of Progress

The old order changeth.
Crime like everything else has changed. So have the methods in combating thefts.

The Spring Valley Anti-Horse Thief association which recently reorganized is no longer concerned with the hated horse thief. Years ago the horse was king as far as quick transportation was concerned. When the stage coach with its four lively horses pulled up at the station at the Spring Valley corners it was an event to be the center of interest of the pioneer residents. It was the only means of transportation.

Lost Many Horses.
A good horse or span of horses were valuable and were prize objects of a systematic gang of thieves. The horse thieves were not as daring or bold as the modern auto thieves for they had more avenues of escape. The horse thief would select a fast animal, make away with it, and either drive or ride as far as possible for 12 hours or more, or more often, just a night's travel. There were no telephones, no telegraph wires, or organized police system to run down the horse thieves. They could steal and know that there was nothing faster to pursue them, except faster horses. The horse thief was master of the situation. The lack of automobiles, motorcycles, fast trains and airplanes.

Invent the horse thief obtained a good get-away the first night, the owner was generally out a good horse.

The plan of the anti-horse thief organization was to start riders on fast horses for different points to look for traces of stolen animals and the thief. Fresh mounts were secured to obtain advantage over the fleeing thief.

Recently the members were stationed on farm barns in Spring Valley. The thieves with either a truck or touring car go to a farm yard, select a fat pig, make their kill in the pen and then butcher the animal. Chicken stealing has been reported in all sections of the county.

So the old horse thief association has its attention turned to stop these raids on the farms. They hope to devise methods and means of stopping the modern robbers. They still retain their old name and in a way, the name of the county school system. One of the books now in the office of the county superintendent of schools, O. D. Antisdel, shows the following facts:

Columbus on his second voyage landed in Haiti in search of gold, also on the island of Santa Domingo, where American marines are occupying the spotlight of investigation attention.

Instead of gold, the crew of Columbus saw native children playing with a ball which would bounce. The Haitian kids made the ball out of the gummy juice of a tree. It was called "catuche," which is said to mean "the wringing tree."

Columbus took some of the strange material back to Spain for the Spanish kids to play with. That was the discovery of rubber, which soon developed into a great trade.

As for Mrs. Carter, we wish to say most emphatically that for an exhibition of pure, unadulterated nerve, and absolute disregard of all laws of morality, we unhesitatingly award her the first prize.

Lastly, regarding the epidemic of rhinoceros hide, we would suggest that she memorize and hereby bear constantly in mind that made by the large number of people who might be benefited. Even such a powerful institution as the Chamber of Commerce of the United States is made up of a varied lot of interests and it is not always advisable for the executives of that organization to commit themselves without a referendum of members.

The process that is satisfactory when a concrete proposal is voted upon when which does not help so much when legislation is in the process of construction and advice is needed day by day as to a variety of changing phases.

Rock county dairymen will continue to produce the maximum amount of milk and milk products in hopes that there will be a favorable market, according to R. K. Overton, president of the Rock County Milk Producers' association.

The county dairymen will hold an association meeting in Beloit on February 8. It is the plan of the association to continue holding meetings among the 11 locals of the county each month. They will attempt organized action to bring about a relief.

Get Full Production.

"We are going to keep on getting full production of milk, fat, and cream," said President Overton. "We may be able to make money later on when production prices come down. Right now the dairymen are feeding cattle with grain and farm stuff the way grown year under inflated price conditions. The feed market price is less than cost. Also when you consider milk production costs, think about the increase in the price of the dairy to stop these raids on the farms."

The dairymen in this county are not kicking about the price of $2.50 a hundredweight for 3.5 milk. We found that didn't do a bit of good. But we do say we are getting enough for our milk in comparison to what the consumer is paying the distributor for handling our own product. He is getting 13 cents a quart but we are getting about 6.5 cents. That's where the farmer thinks he is not getting a square deal on the milk question."

Farmer's Losses on Cows.

"Take another angle of the situation," said Overton. "I had two cows who were infected from the tubercular test in my 'credit herd.' I shipped both animals to Milwaukee and received just $3.40 for them and the freight cost me $31.42. For these high grade dairy animals I only got $23.88 in cash. I paid considerable for them."

This fact was brought out in connection with the passage of the city ordinance which will cause more cattle to be tested. "We want diseased cattle out of the county," said Overton.

"The association wants the tubercular test for all the county but think what it is going to cost the farmer. In all my experience I only know of but one herd which stood the state or federal test without a single animal re-acting. Cattle condemned are almost a total loss to the owner. Such loss cuts in decidedly on any hope of profit on milk."

Many Rock county dairy men will attend the annual meeting of the Chicago association to be held in the Hotel La Salle on February 1. Officers will be elected. R. K. Overton, and the Rock county association secretary, C. W. Shimell, will attend with representatives from the other locals.

Deloit's infant death rate is higher than in Janesville—due to the foreign born population in the Gateway city—it was stated in the annual report of Miss Anna Ziesche, county visiting nurse. The report further states that the tuberculosis death rate is larger in Janesville than in Deloit with the comment, "this shows plainly that Janesville needs more and better organized health work and a full time health officer."

The defects listed in the report were as follows:—teeth, 1058; tonsils, 777; eyes, 68; vision, 248; hearing, 27; nasal breathing, 241; speech, 54; glands, 508; skin, 18; nerves, 85; heart, 31; anemia, 3; lungs, 10; and pediculosis, 9.

Mental tests are to be applied in the country schools.

Results were noted from the examinations for the majority of cases the parents of pupils had physical defects corrected by medical treatment.

3 CASES DECIDED BY JUDGE MAXFIELD

Three judgments in local civil suits were entered yesterday by Judge H. L. Maxfield. Two in favor of the defendant, which each time happened to be the Matteson-Lindstrom company.

In the case of Pember Nuzum, Nuzum, Snodgrass and Hartman vs. Matteson-Lindstrom company, the court held the plaintiff had no cause of action and ordered the plaintiff to pay costs of the suit. The case involved medical attention said to have been given an employee of defendant.

J. A. Rittenhouse lost his suit against the same company, he seeking to recover money paid down for a house later sold to another party. The court held Rittenhouse had entered into a contract and therefore had no cause for action. The costs $12.00 must be paid by him.

In the action of William Mitropolky vs. William Doyle, a judgment of $178.57 was ordered in favor of the plaintiff.

PARIS IS LETTING DOWN HER SKIRTS

This newest importation from Paris shows that the French fashion center is changing its over. They are now favoring the short skirt upon us when, to the next frock appears with scores six inches between the ground and hem. Suits and frocks of late winter and early spring wear show much longer skirts than our American houses are featuring. Whether this tendency will affect the American designs is hard to say. It seems, however, the American woman will never favor the long skirt. They have found the short ones too comfortable and sensible.

This frock, designed by a well-known French modiste, has a Russian blouse of black velvet and a skirt of henna duvetyn trimmed with bands of black fur and black souache leavy. It is styled for motor, walking and skating because of the large high collar which fastens gracefully with two large buttons. The bodice is plain, with long kimono sleeves and a sash which ties at the side.

Trappist Monk Renounces Vows After 20 Years and Takes Bride

Washington.—"I am at peace with my conscience," was the statement made after his wedding by James Cornelius Biddle, member of a prominent Philadelphia family and a former Trappist monk, who renounced his vows of perpetual retirement from the world to marry Miss Mary Lona Gaines of Warrentown, Va., the oldest of an old Virginia family, and an old friend of Admiral Cary T. Grayson, navy physician attached to the White House.

Biddle said he made up his mind to renounce the vows he took as a Trappist brother, which is known to be the most austere of all Catholic monastic orders, and that he had determined to follow the teachings of St. Paul, who, "he said," held that celibacy was a matter of choice.

Bound for Paradise.—Mr. and Mrs. Biddle plan to stay in Washington for a few days after which they will go to live in "Paradise," which is the name of the country home of Mrs. Biddle on the outskirts of Warrentown.

Biddle is the son of Thomas Biddle, who was minister to Ecuador some time ago, dying in that country at the age of 50. The family is one of the oldest in Philadelphia, having several branches which have provided some of the recognized social leaders of the nation. He is now fifty-two years old and his bride is in her early forties.

When he was thirty years old Biddle who had been making a study of ecclesiastical subjects, decided to enter the Trappist order. He went to the monastery in Kentucky known as the Abbey of Gethsemane, where he assumed the name of the father Alberic and apparently retired to the seclusion and study of all Trappist monks.

Nothing was heard of him until about two years ago, when he left the monastery without notice. He explained his leave taking to the newspaper correspondents.

Mr. and Mrs. Jas. C. Biddle.

"After my years of study in the monastery and the reading of the lives of the saints, I came to the conclusion that St. Paul was right, and that celibacy was a matter of choice to a life of perpetual silence, seclusion, penitence and prayer."

"Do the Trappists dig their own graves?"

"No, but they always have a grave ready and marked so that the thought of death is always in their mind."

Biddle said that after he left the monastery he went to Southern Pines, where he stayed for some time. There he was introduced to Miss Gaines by some friends.

Later he went to Warrentown, where Miss Gaines lived, and was received in the best clubs of the place and was a frequent visitor at the home of Miss Gaines. She had inherited the estate "Paradise" from her brother, a banker of Virginia, who had left the estate to the Episcopalian church in a will, but signified before his death his intention that his sister should receive it. A court action developed and the new Mrs. Biddle received the estate.

Five Virginia Family.—Mrs. Biddle is of one of the best families in Virginia. It was known in Warrentown, according to reports from that place, that Biddle was a former Trappist monk. This apparently made no difference in the engagement. Some time ago the engagement of Miss Gaines to Biddle was announced and it occasioned no surprise.

LIQUOR PERMITS HARDER TO OBTAIN

Washington, Jan. 20.—To lessen the policy of abuse of liquor permits, Prohibition Commissioner Kramer directed that all applications for new permits or renewal of old permits to sell liquor at wholesale or to use it in the manufacture of alcoholic preparations, must be approved by state directors and supervising federal prohibition agents. Regulations requiring similar approval of applications for permits for retail druggists will be issued soon, Mr. Kramer announced.

SANITARIUM SITE MATTER POSTPONED

Supervisors, Failing to Get Property, Again Defer Action.

Rock county lost out in the attempt to secure a section of the Hugh Koenigsmay farm, near the county property north of Janesville, as a site for the proposed sanitarium.

The attempt to purchase a strip of the farm adjoining the county property fell through because of objections offered against the location of the tuberculosis hospital.

Mrs. Koenigsmay, it was explained, "did not desire to sell any property at any price, desiring the land for a permanent home."

At the last meeting the board heard from M. L. Paulsen, who was in charge of the negotiations to secure property across the road, toward the river, which also adjoins county farm land. The committee headed by M. L. Paulsen was reported during the meeting of the county board yesterday afternoon.

No further action will be taken until the re-organization of the board following the spring election.

EIGHT PROJECTS TO BE PUSHED BY C. C.

To Get Action on Fourth of July Celebration, Motor Club and Other Matters.

A program of eight projects to be pushed by the Chamber of Commerce was mapped out by the board of directors in the meeting at the Chamber rooms Wednesday afternoon. A special committee to confer with the Gibson, president of the Chamber, on naming sub-committees for each activity will be named.

Plans call for a clean-up campaign; an auto club and tourist bureau; a trade fair bureau; formation of an associated chamber; an industrial committee on new factories; retail and trade committee; a traffic bureau; and celebration of independence day.

Work is being started now to make the fourth of July celebration a big one. The plans are being formulated so far ahead of time in order to perfect details.

At the meeting Wednesday, Courtland Tolson, American city bureau, Chicago, reported on the progress of the drive he is conducting here to get delinquent members to pay their dues. A total of $1,187 has been collected so far. Friday a special committee of the board of directors and others will make a clean up campaign for the balance.

Endorsement was given by the board to plans of the La Crosse Chamber of Commerce to host John J. Esch, co-author of the federal income law, for a place on the interstate commerce commission.

John F. Chambers, representing the Redpath Lyceum bureau, presented information about a summer course to the directors. Action was postponed.

"OH! OH! GINDY" IS GREAT PRODUCTION

"Oh! Oh! Gindy" playing before another capacity house at Apollo theater last evening added to its laurels with a longer list of one-hundred supporters who pronounced it the best ever in home theatricals. Scenery, costumes, chorus work, and general playing were all so finished that the production was a real thing of the usual amateur performances.

The entire show was put across better last evening than the first night due perhaps to confidence, security by the director, and the performance. Song hits which scored applause last evening were "Oh! What a Bump" sung by Mrs. Irving Clark and W. H. McGuire and "The Movies" by Misses Veronica Hartnett, Eileen Sullivan, Lillian Dulin, Betty Klenow, and Dr. McGuire; "My Mother's Rosary" by Mrs. James Holton; "Along to the Movies" by Mrs. J. Frank Murtaugh, Miss Gabriel, Loranger, Darrell Sullivan, William Kobler, John Hilgers, Roy Ryan, and Theodore Dacey; "Bimbo," John Q. Sheehan.

Miss Marion Nelson scored another hit and Martin Kennedy's droll comedy was one of the bright spots of the show.

More than $1500 was taken in as proceeds of the show, which after expenses are deducted will be toward paying for the new clubhouse on South Jackson street. This clubhouse was used for all rehearsals which were chaperoned by wives of the knights.

Many who took part in the play when it was in Beloit a few months ago were in the audience last evening.

A supper followed by a dance to the music of the orchestra at the K. of C. clubhouse for the principals and older groups who took part in the play, committees and chaperones. The Knights and the John B. Rogers Producing company are giving the affair. Children who took part will be entertained at the clubhouse Saturday afternoon.

Knights of Columbus and Marvin Clark, the director, said today that whatever success the show attained was due to the cooperation, and sincerity of the cast, members of the committees, Apollo theater management, the merchants who made possible the program and the Janesville Gazette.

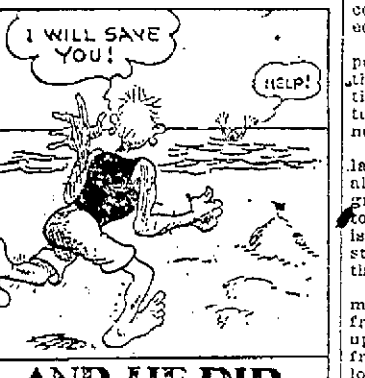

Mr. Park will leave this city Friday for Peoria, Ill., where he will direct the same show to be given under the auspices of the Eastern Star.

BIG DEMAND FOR NEW APARTMENTS

Forty-seven applications for the 22 apartments in the Blackhawk building on East Milwaukee, near North East street, now under construction, have been received by James Cullen, the owner. All work will be completed up to the second floor of the structure by Saturday. The building is expected to be ready for occupancy by the middle of May.

2-CENT PIECES MAY BE ISSUED BY U. S.

The United States may issue a lot of people with their war tax problems. A coin of this kind is favorably recommended by the congress committee of the United States, which reported there is "a genuine need" for a coin of this denomination. It is proposed to stamp a picture of the late Theodore Roosevelt on the coin, and to have the inscription "UNITED STATES OF AMERICA" and "THEODORE ROOSEVELT" on the reverse side.

FIVE WOMEN TAKE SEATS IN CONNECTICUT LEGISLATURE

Left to right: Mrs. F. A. Jewett, Mrs. L. S. Frink, Mrs. M. M. Booker, Mrs. E. S. Brown and Rev. Grace I. Edwards.

Five women, elected last November, have taken their places in the new legislature in Connecticut, which has just begun its first session. Three of the new female legislators are Republicans, one a Democrat and one an Independent. Their work will be watched with interest.

INCREASED TAXES FOR CORPORATION IS DISCOURAGED

Madison, Wis.—Increase in corporation income taxes is discouraged by the tax commission in its recommendations to the legislature. The governor and commission both, however, have asked for an increase in the rate of individual incomes.

"There is no law requiring corporations to maintain a corporate existence in this state, or to compel persons doing business here to incorporate, and it may be taken as an accepted truth that when corporation taxes get so high as to make it profitable for corporations to emigrate or dissolve, they will not hesitate to do so," the commission said.

Repeal of the personal property tax as asked by both the governor and tax commissioner would, it was said, have the effect of increasing corporation taxes to a point where they would bear an unequal weight with the individual when the tax rate had been increased. "We can see no reason why an income whether received by a corporation or an individual should bear an unequal weight just as the same rate of taxation is applied to real and personal property whether owned by an individual or a corporation," it was stated.

"There is danger in the tendency encouraged by the legislature to limit the scope of the income tax law and to continually lighten the burden of the income tax payer, the commission declared, stating that "almost every amendment offered to the law which would in any way lighten the burdens of income tax payers has been enacted, while amendments suggested that would tend to increase the revenue from income taxation have been rejected."

In this process of elimination of taxable incomes goes on the Wisconsin tax will become a mere shadow, it was said. The commission declared that it was pointing out this danger at this time because the period of declining incomes had arrived.

"For four years incomes have been abnormally large and the effect of the legislative program has not been materially felt, but with the reversion to something like normal incomes we will get its full force," the commission stated.

STUMPS LEAVE PART OF CULTIVATED LAND IN WASTE

Madison—As much as 15 per cent of cultivated land is waste to the farmer because of stumps, the Agricultural Experimental station of the University of Wisconsin points out in a bulletin entitled "Clear More Land."

Stump removal, on five different tracts of land of ten acres each, located in northern Wisconsin, show that nearly one-seventh of the soil is not used because of stumps. Besides the waste, considerable inconvenience is caused the farmer in his efforts to avoid them with his machinery.

Explosives have been found essential in clearing the land of stumps, and the station says that they are found cheaper than the high grades. With proper care in placing and tamping the charges, explosives have been declared safe for land clearing work.

Improved machinery and methods for clearing land have made it easier and more profitable to use all available land on farms in northern Wisconsin having large portions burdened with stumps and brush.

The cost of stamping farm land depends upon the number of years since the trees were cut, the kind, condition, and size of the stump, the nature and wetness of the soil, and the number of stumps to the acre.

The use of a power piler to pile large stumps is urged in order that all root fragments may be hooped in great upright piles, as they are found to burn best in this arrangement. It is pointed out that proper burning of stumps is as important as removing them from the ground.

Before stumps can be properly removed from the land, all brush and fragments of old logs must be picked up. It has been found that it requires from one to ten days to brush and log an acre of land, depending entirely upon the skill of the men doing the work.

HALF MILLION ON ROADS IN COUNTY

struction work. The efforts of the county to utilize local gravel pits and substitute machinery for labor, have proven highly satisfactory, both as to the quality of the work and economy of construction. The county may be well thankful that means have been found to hold down the cost of concrete roads to the very minimum.

Five Miles More.

The 148 miles of the state trunk system have all been improved in the county except five miles which will be a part of the 1921 road program. There are 300 miles on the county system, of which 225 miles have been improved by the county, making nearly 275 miles of improved road, the most of which has been rebuilt in the last eight years, the report stated.

In the matter of the Edgerton road, figures previously given and printed on the cost of construction under the county construction instead of contract work, were again used. Considerable time was used in going over the costs of the three mile stretch built last year. The report stated that the county saved a total of $18,255.84.

The statement of the bridge funds shows that the expense amounted to $2,553.24 and the balance on hand is $7,284.42. The cost of the work was given for the Primrose bridge as $1,577.35 and for the Edgerton bridge $1,975.89, a total of $3,553.24, and the fund total is $10,237.66.

Y. W. C. A. MOVEMENT TAKES HOLD FAST

Progress in lining up committees for the proposed Young Women's association here is reported by Miss Mary Barker, general chairman. Reports from the Y. W. C. A. playlets to be held January 31, show great interest upon the part of those to appear.

Through error, Mrs. George Cullen was named in the published list of those on the general Y. W. C. A. committee. This should have been Mrs. George Allen.

NOTICE.

News Notes From Movieland

BY DAISY DEAN

"If I am not ruining my clothes I am breaking my neck!" says a pretty blond leading woman for so many of Metro's pictures, is the author of the above statement.

"Why, I have just completed a picture, 'Are You to Blame?' in which I had to ruin a perfectly stunning and elaborate evening gown by a midnight plunge in the ocean," said Miss Allison. "And, now the first thing that meets my eye when I get the script to my new story is the fact that the opening scene shows the heroine in a perilous ride on a runaway horse."

"And that's just one of the many hazards I will have to perform for the sake of realism. But really, I don't mind, though sometimes I catch my breath and wonder how it will all end, when I undertake some risky stunt."

"In my last two pictures, 'The Marriage of William Ashe' and 'Are You to Blame?' I was called upon to wear quite elaborate—at any rate very good looking—gowns, and nearly every one of them was worn in a scene that meant utter wreck to the gown. And now, my new picture, 'Big Game,' starts me off with a wild ride at breakneck speed, and maybe I will break my neck at it! And that's not the least of the tricks I will perform during the course of production on this story. Nearly all the action takes place in the northwest Canadian woods, and after my race on the runaway horse, I will go to the Canadian backwoods and have a race with a dog team."

"Ain't it the truth? These movie queens do have a awful life."

WHAT'S IN A NAME.

Eccentric Novy was born in Russia and has a name that sounds like a Bolshevik caucus getting underway. The casting director at Fox, after vainly trying to pronounce it, asked her to use the same initials if she liked, but to Anglicize her natal designation so that film fans could say it gibbly, instead of coughing it or ignoring it altogether.

A FINE CAST FOR "ANATOL."

NEGRO PLAYERS CAUSE HARVARD TO CANCEL GAME IN VIRGINIA

Cambridge, Mass.—Harvard's varsity track team, which had planned a southern trip in the spring, will not go below the Mason and Dixon line, as a result of the action of the University of Virginia and the naval academy. To a communication from Mr. Moore, graduate manager of athletics at Harvard, saying that the Crimson team included two athletes of negro blood, such institutions replied that they considered it best under the circumstances that meet scheduled with Harvard in April should not be held.

The cancellation has been made by Harvard, Mr. Moore said today. When the dates were arranged the fact that Harvard's negro members might not be welcome was not considered, but subsequently both Virginia and Annapolis were told that the Crimson team included negroes, and that unless Harvard would be welcomed with them, it would not come without them.

CARNEY MAY REJOIN ILLINOIS BASKETEERS

Urbana, Ill.—Basketball hopes at Illinois upward with the appearance in uniform of Charles Carney, former All-Western center, who has been able to practice because of a badly sprained leg. Carney, practically a unanimous choice for All-American and last football season, was injured in the game with Ohio.

Possibility that Carney may get into conference games late this month was expressed by basketball followers. He still wears a plaster cast on his leg, but although forced to walk with a limp has lost none of his old-time accuracy in shooting baskets.

With Carney back at the Pivot position, Coach Winters believes he will lead the Illini to a championship contention. Carney has been a surprise at center, but he is regarded as slow for "Big Ten" competition. Captain Vail, who is under way, has been given strenuous practice sessions in preparation for the "Big Ten" dog race.

Illinois Makes Plans for Spring Track Work

Urbana, Ill.—Track preparations for the spring season at the University of Illinois are under way. A large squad responded to Coach Harry C. Gill's first call for practice. The Orange and Blue runners will meet Notre Dame in February for the first indoor meet.

The big event of the indoor season will be the Relay Carnival on March 5. It will be staged in the big Illinois Armory, which provides the best indoor cinder tracks in the middle west.

JANESVILLE SPORTS DOM NEEDS

An outdoor cinder path for track events. Better swimming benches. Physical training in the public schools. Public Schools Athletic League. Sunday Schools Athletic League. Greater and wider participation by high school in all branches of athletics.

The Old Bus Needed to Bring Simplicity Back

Chicago, Jan. 15.—Revival of the old time baseball players bus for trips to and from the baseball park, would go far toward restoring simplicity and a spirit of sportsmanship to the game. Manager Johnny Evers of the Cubs declared today.

"The old bus gave us a good wholesome advertising, but at the same time it put real fun and chance for real team work, and more honest to goodness pep in the game," Evers declared. "It made it more like a sport and less like a commercial proposition."

"Remember how the manager and his team used to pile out of the hotel and into the bus? If we were the visiting team and the town was there to see and cheer for us, away we would go across the town, the entire route one long line of yelling home town boosters. By the time the park was reached everyone had heard something that made him full of fight."

Don't Study Game.

"After the game we would pile back into the bus. A couple of thousand fans would stand around and give us a hooting, win or lose. We got it coming and going and loved it."

"How is it today? Morning practice makes the front of the park look like an automobile show. The players breeze in at the last minute and breeze out as quickly as they can change clothes. The manager never sees his men together except at game time. The players are too busy keeping dates with everybody in the world from movie promoters to soap manufacturers."

"That is the reason players today are not as smart, actively as they were a few years ago. They don't spend enough time learning baseball."

INDUSTRIES PLAN SPORT TOURNAMENTS

Alton, Ohio, Jan. 20.—Three major winter tournaments for industrial athletes throughout the country were announced here today by the national headquarters of the American Industrial Athletic Association.

The first event will be a national amateur boxing tournament at Johnson City, N. Y., February 21 and 22, in which boxers of all weights will compete for national honors. This tournament will be followed on February 23 by a national telegraph bowling tournament to decide the industrial title.

On March 17, 18 and 19, a basketball tournament will be held at Erie, Pa., in conjunction with the annual convention of the association members. Athletes of 116 concerns, members of the A. I. A. A. are eligible to compete in the three tournaments.

WAGNER MAY RETURN IN NEW BALL LEAGUE

Peter L. Is Sold; Price Reported $15,000

Hartford, Conn., Jan. 20.—Word has come from W. H. Cochran, secretary of the National Trotting association, that William Crozier, of this city, has bought Peter L., champion 4-year-old trotting stallion of 1920, at Memphis, Tenn. The price is understood to have been about $15,000. Peter L. will be brought here. Last year in eleven races won, his best mark was 2:06 1/4.

TOBACCO MEN TO RALLY IN MADISON
Many from Janesville and Rock county, one of the leading tobacco counties of the state, will attend the annual meeting of the Farmers' Tobacco Growers' association of Wisconsin which will be held at Madison, Saturday, Jan. 22. What is expected to be one of the chief topics of discussion is the untoward market for the growers in the state this year, and the extremely low prices being paid them.

APOLLO PROMISES CLEAN VAUDEVILLE

Zanias Meets With Special
Citizens' Committee on Theater Matter.

Going on record in favor of a clean type of vaudeville in the theater of this city, a special committee of men and women representing civic interests of Janesville obtained a promise from James Zanias, manager of the Apollo theater, that he will utilize vigilance to keep cleanliness from creeping into any show appearing in his playhouse. J. A. Strimpe, of the Janesville Amusement Co., operators of the Myers and Beverly theaters, and Jack Smith, manager of the Majestic theater, were unable to attend. The meeting was held at the Chamber of Commerce.

While the motion picture was brought up in the discussion, attention was focused on the vaudeville presented here with statements being made that at times it has been offensive. It was stated that he would lose money in attempting to bring first-class artists to his theater. Mr. Zanias stated that he would watch carefully pointed out, and if necessary, would remove any act which was offensive to the public and would warn artists not to continue.

"In rehearsing, vaudeville shows do not go through their act," said Mr. Zanias, "and I cannot tell what they are going to do until after they have made their first appearance. I shall watch them carefully and anything offensive, I shall request them to eliminate."

Higher class acts than are now shown here, said Zanias, will not pay because the original cost is too expensive. On the other hand, it was pointed out, the success appears even in other cities where so-called better type shows are given and Janesville's problem is no worse.

Those in attendance were James Zanias, manager of the Apollo; George S. Parker, representing the Apollo club; Miss Gertrude Cobb and Mrs. Walter Helma of the Women's Federation of Clubs; L. F. Wierzbicka, of the Janesville club; H. H. Ellis, secretary club; L. O. Holman, chamber of commerce; Mrs. W. A. Mann, drama league; William O'Connell, local business interests and Dr. L. J. Woodworth, American legion.

Plans for raising a fund for Armenian relief, and for financing a lecture course, in the fall, were made at a business meeting preceding the program, and presided over by J. A. Steiner.

During the morning session the board approved the granting of proposed franchise to the Beloit Water, Gas and Electric company in the town of Turtle as far as the county right over the road is concerned. The franchise petition was rejected yesterday and was brought in again today with the statement that changes had been made so that the company could not cut down trees along the highway without the owner's consent. The franchise now goes before the Turtle township board. John Root, Beloit attorney, brought the matter before the board.

Reports were made from committees 7 and 10 during the morning meeting.

One of the huge airplanes which travel between Chicago, Minneapolis and St. Paul daily carrying mail, was forced to land in South Janesville at 1:30 this morning, near the Beloit road, on account of the dense fog. The aviator, however, did not get out of the airplane and continued on their trip to Minneapolis.

Defendant in Mock Trial Is Found Guilty

Robert Cunningham, president of the Janesville Citizens' committee, was found guilty of the crime of mocking the court.

The accused, Elmer Townsend, charged with stealing the watch of Rev. F. F. Lewis, was adjudged guilty, but justified when it was brought out that his intention was to expose the works with an engine, which should keep reliable time, so that the minister should be obliged to close his sermons at the appointed hour. Albert Swallow was also implicated.

The testimony of the expert jeweler, Mr. Dewey, who sold the watch to the complainant, led the jury to believe that it was second hand at that time, which was considered by them to be quite in keeping with the financial status of a Methodist preacher.

The district attorney, J. C. Kohler, quoted from the 23rd amendment wherein it was specified as unlawful to steal anything from a minister or a clergyman.

The defense, Charles Atkinson, quoted another article that anyone stealing from a minister should be adjudged insane.

Mr. Atkinson, the foreman of the jury, the other members being W. J. Hall, J. W. Lewis, O. D. Bates, E. G. Owen, A. Hubbard, William Atkinson, Thomas Scott, Heenan, S. Boyd, S. J. Troon was clerk of the court; Nelson Hinds, sheriff; Frank Sinclair, court reporter; and Elmer Van Pelt, court clerk.

Plans for raising a fund for Armenian relief, and for financing a lecture course, in the fall, were made at a business meeting preceding the program, and presided over by J. A. Steiner.

During the morning session the board approved the granting of proposed franchise to the Beloit Water, Gas and Electric company in the town of Turtle as far as the county right over the road is concerned. The franchise petition was rejected yesterday and was brought in again today with the statement that changes had been made so that the company could not cut down trees along the highway without the owner's consent. The franchise now goes before the Turtle township board. John Root, Beloit attorney, brought the matter before the board.

Reports were made from committees 7 and 10 during the morning meeting.

One of the huge airplanes which travel between Chicago, Minneapolis and St. Paul daily carrying mail, was forced to land in South Janesville at 1:30 this morning, near the Beloit road, on account of the dense fog. The aviator, however, did not get out of the airplane and continued on their trip to Minneapolis.

OWNER OF BULL ASSESSED $300

Jury Takes Hour to Return
Verdict in Favor of Gold-thorpe in Damage Suit.

Failure of George B. Smith to keep his bull tied up or at least keep him within the fences of his own farm, cost him $300 and costs in municipal court here late yesterday afternoon. It took a six-man jury just an hour to return a verdict in favor of John W. Goldthorpe, plaintiff, who sought to recover $500 for damages done by Smith's wandering bull to his herd of pure bred Holsteins.

The case was spread out over practically the entire day. The case was called at 9:30 a. m., and it was not until 4:35 that the jury reached a verdict and reported to Constable William E. Bull that they were ready to announce it.

Farmers Deeply Interested
The court room was packed throughout the day. Every available chair was occupied and spectators were sitting in windows and standing up. The majority were farmers, apparently seeking information for what his bull does.

It was brought out by the plaintiff through questioning by his attorney, E. H. Ryan, that Smith's own farm had been damaged by a calf or two. The defense contended the bull was not the cause of this loss.

The defense, by counsel, Charles Enslow, called eight witnesses and recalled three of them. The last three were John W. Goldthorpe, J. H. Smith and John Wehinger. Mr. Enslow's motion to strike out the testimony for the plaintiff given by Archie Reid, was over-ruled.

Smith and Goldthorpe live about 3 miles east of Janesville. The jury was composed of Fred Wilbur, S. S. Solle, Frank Hayes, W. E. Clinton, P. H. Korst and Charles Hoffman.

After the verdict, Judge H. L. Maxfield thanked jurors for the service. He spoke of service on a jury as a privilege and an honor.

Plans for raising a fund for Armenian relief, and for financing a lecture course, in the fall, were made at a business meeting preceding the program, and presided over by J. A. Steiner.

BLAMES CLOSING OF CONDENSERIES FOR SURPLUS OF MILK

Closing of the condenseries—directly due to the lack of a foreign demand—is the cause of the milk surplus which is taking money out of the dairymen's pockets.

This statement is made by J. P. Thomas, secretary to the Wisconsin dairy council who arrived in Janesville today to direct the milk and milk products campaign to increase the consumption to take care of the surplus.

Considerable Surplus.
It was explained that a great percent of the milk, especially from Southern Wisconsin, went into the country market, being a staple of the milk trade during the war. The differences in the rate of exchange caused the condensed milk market to strike downward with an abrupt bump which closed the majority of the factories handling canned milk, throwing the supply back on the hands of the producers.

To readjust the condition, the dairymen's council is now under way on a campaign in Rock county to increase consumption of milk, to curb the use of milk and butter substitutes.

Town Chairmen Active.
Township chairmen through the county are active in the campaign. It is being carried into the city and country schools this week by County Agent R. T. Glasco and the joint committee in charge of the distribution of milk.

Doubt is being expressed by men versed in milk marketing conditions if the condenseries will open again in a year's time. The dairymen declare that the foreign market must be resumed to prevent supply produced during the last six months must be disposed of in the United States before the condenser corporations will "turn a wheel."

If it takes a year for the country would just use two additional spoonsful of milk a day, the dairy man would find full demand for all his milk," said Secretary Thomas.

The plan is to use the present sugar system, that is, alternating the lights so the posts on each side of the street will not be opposite each other. In the residential districts where such intensive lighting is not needed, the plan is to use the lights further apart, particularly on Jackson, Franklin and Center ave-

Although it is not believed the $13,300 appropriated in the 1921 budget will be sufficient to carry out the program, it is probable other methods of financing will be devised. The Janesville Electric company, through Harold L. Giesse, last night made the proposal to add the fee if the city would buy the posts and pay for their installation. A similar arrangement was made when the present system was installed in the downtown district. The lighting contract expires within the next few months.

While prices on the posts contemplated vary, it is believed they will range from $50 to $75 apiece. A number of post salesmen and electricians compared notes at the meeting last night.

Rickard Deserted; Will Push Dempsey-Carp Bout Alone

BRADY'S ACTION THROWS BOMB IN BOXING'S RANKS

BULLETIN.
New York, Jan. 20.—Neither Jack Dempsey nor Georges Carpentier, under contract to meet in a $500,000 championship heavyweight boxing bout next summer, have put up their deposit money with the depositary here. It was announced by J. J. Fuller, vice-president of the Central Union Trust company.
Dempsey made no deposit with us," said Mr. Fuller. "We have never heard from him except as to an assignment of rights in the moving picture of the bout, which has nothing to do with the deposit required of him."
Nothing From Carp.
"Carpentier has made no deposit as required by the bout contract. He has deposited some French securities with Morgan, Harjes and company, Paris bankers, but these cannot be exported to this country under the French law of April, 1915, which calls for payment of a perfect score, puncturing the cardboard for 1915.

Charles B. Cochran, the British promoter, has deposited the money required of him. He is already in Canada. Rickard, the American promoter, has covered the deposit with surety bonds as allowed by the contract.
New York, Jan. 20.—Withdrawal of two of the promoters of the $500,000 championship heavyweight boxing bout between Dempsey and Carpentier will not deter the third promoter, William A. Brady, from making the contest, he said today. He indicated he would immediately procure other promoters to take the place of William A. Brady and Charles B. Cochran, who had withdrawn from the bout. Brady announced last night that he had withdrawn from the bout because of the alleged failure to post forfeits. He said he was concerned he was through, "because the contracts have not been mutually observed." He also said he was fully authorized to announce the contest, withdrawal of Cochran, who is in England.
To Leave United States?
Brady's statement threw a bomb shell into the boxing world. Close followers of the sport here agreed that the breaking up of the triumvirate of promoters presaged virtual abandonment of the plan to hold the contest in the United States. Rickard was reported to be angry at Brady's action. He reported that he was giving serious consideration by many enthusiasts.
Rickard expressed surprise at the action of Brady and Cochran. He regarded their claim that the forfeits had not been posted in accordance with the strict letter of the contract, as a purely technical objection.

Here and There, but Mostly Here

As the days lengthen the call of the diamond penetrates the baseball skin of two pitchers of the Samson club. "Sunny Bill" Lathrop itches as it he were wearing red flannels. "Slim" Walsh has a peculiar feeling in the fingers of his right hand that would be hypnotism to any ball.

With Manager George Perling's announcement that he is ready to go ahead gathering his team together for next season, the two slubmen have got their heads close to each other with a few early season plans. Since the club will not be able to do anything like taking a spring training trip, Lathrop and Walsh are so anxious to be in good form when the season opens that they plan a little trip of their own.

The Wear-Ever Smile

Both athletes took their college training at Notre Dame, long noted for the quality of its teams. Now what they plan is to go back to the old campus and engage in a two-fold stunt. BIG OFFERS HURT BASEBALL SAYS MACK

Philadelphia, Jan. 20.—Tampering with the imagination of baseball players by offers of big salaries is the greatest menace the game faces, in the opinion of Connie Mack, manager and part owner of the Philadelphia Americans.
"Just division teams," Mack said on Wednesday, "think that whenever a star is developed all they have to do is advertise that they will pay thousands of dollars for him and then double the salary he is getting from his present club. To my mind that is the biggest menace baseball faces right now. Some of those first division clubs don't seem to realize it, and I think it will take some kind of a ruling by Judge Landis to get it through their heads."

This season the company plans to work out on a department schedule. The best players in these teams will be chosen for the representative team in the independent field.

Answer to Query

Sporting Editor, Gazette.
Dear Sir:
Would you kindly decide this question in regard to the recent Mitchell vs. Leonard boxing match? A bet that Leonard would knock Mitchell out inside the limit. B bet that he would not. As the fight was stopped in the sixth round, B is undecided whether it was considered a knock-out or not and whether he should pay the bet.

J. W. SERVICE.
Answer—It was a technical knock-out. The only reason that the referee decided to call the Leonard-Mitchell bout in the sixth round was to save Ritchie from a knockout that was bound to come. While Mitchell showed up in great style, he was groggy and ready for the wallop that would have meant the ten count, had the bout been allowed to continue. On these conditions, A wins the bet.
